Write With the Guidance of Experienced Writers

The SWG Indigenous Mentorship Program allows developing Indigenous writers to work in a supportive environment under the guidance of professional writers.

The mentor provides the apprentice with one-on-one instruction in the craft of creative writing. The program is open to Indigenous writers in all genres and will be tailored to the apprentice's individual needs. Two pairs will work to develop the best methodology for working together and spend approximately 20 hours a month in collaboration through email, phone, face-to-face and online meetings. The program runs from January 1 to April 30, 2022.

The focus of the program is craft development, manuscript preparation, the business of writing and editing. Apprentices should not expect to have a completed manuscript by the end of the program. At the end of the program, the apprentices will give a public reading of their work.

There is no cost to apply for this program and there are no participation fees.

Deadline: Applications must be emailed to swgip@skwriter.com or postmarked by September 30, 2021 (midnight).

Lynda Monahan Author Reading

The Door at the End of Everything

Tuesday, September 28, 7:00
John M. Cuelenaere Public Library
125 12 Street East

Would you like to meet a local author and enjoy a good discussion? Everyone is welcome to come and listen to readings by Lynda Monahan! She will be sharing work from her new manuscript, The Door at the End of Everything. Lynda's published works will be for sale.

Funded by League of Canadian Poets and the Canada Council for the Arts.

For the second part of the evening, Lynda will be joined by local writers for the launch of the new apart anthology published by the Saskatchewan Writers Guild. Enjoy listening to their readings which are part of the anthology.

apart - a year of pandemic poetry and prose apart paints a vivid portrait of life in a pandemic, when "normal" is a thing of the past and anxiety is a faithful companion. Some of the writing is sad, even heart-breaking, a few pieces are funny and light-hearted, but many provide some much-needed comfort and imagination in a turbulent time. The writing is thoughtful, carefully observed, and insightful. And running through all the pieces, like a silver thread in a tapestry, is a note of optimism.

Everyone welcome. Books for sale.
